Welcome

- We are so glad you are here!
- Take a minute to introduce yourself.
Mission

- Construct, transform, and convey knowledge by integrating research, theory, and practice;

- Cultivate student growth through extensive community and school engagement in collaboration with exemplary practicing professionals;

- Act with respect for individual differences, including taking a strengths-based view;

- Develop collaborative partnerships that promote the learning and well-being of individuals, families, and the community; and

- Evaluate processes and outcomes to ensure continual program improvements.
The vision of Woodring College of Education frames our future.

Woodring College of Education fosters community relationships and a culture of learning that advance knowledge, honor diversities, and promote social justice.
The Department of Special Education and Education Leadership are deeply involved in issues of social justice.

An important aspect of social justice is education for each child, especially a child with disabilities, to fulfill potential and take a rightful place in society.

Our specific purpose is to prepare educators and support professionals with the dispositions, knowledge, and skills to positively impact the future of all children, including children from low SES, ethnic diversity, and especially children with disabilities.
Disability Rights

- We welcome students in our programs with disabilities. You have the right to reasonable accommodations. If you have a disability follow the process outlined in your handbook.

  - Contact Disability Rights Services to schedule an appointment
  - Identify your instructors. For your benefit, be aware that many courses are co-taught and all instructors for block courses should be identified.

- Send out letter with requested accommodations
- Set up an appointment with EACH instructor at the very beginning of the quarter to review list of accommodations
- If your schedule includes a practicum, then advise the chair of the department by the second week of the quarter prior to the practicum.
- Accommodations for practica are NOT the same for coursework

Plan of Study

- Each program has its own plan of study.
  - SPED + Elementary
  - SPED + Content
  - Exceptionality and Disability, BAE
  - Early Childhood Special Education + Early Childhood Education

- Do NOT deviate from the plan unless ABSOLUTELY necessary. Do not deviate without your advisor’s permission and assistance.

- Follows a modified cohort model. ANY changes must go through your advisor and requires an advisor signature.
Course sequence is set up for most efficient time to degree and SPED courses build upon each other as much as possible. Follow your Plan of Study.

Take your pre-requisites: Linguistics 201, Science Ed. 201, Math 112.

It is ultimately the responsibility of the student to ensure that courses fit and are taken at the appropriate time.

We have limited control over the scheduling of courses originating from other departments. If you cannot get in a class. See Ms. Cahill immediately.

Students MUST meet with their advisors each quarter!
Summer Courses

- Limited offering of SPED courses during the summer
- Other courses outside SPED (e.g., Math, Art, Music, IT 443) do offer summer courses at times. (This is not a guarantee)
- If you decide to take a summer course, check with Financial Aid first. Some students can get financial aid for summer, and some do not qualify for it.
- If you need to complete GURS, some GURs may be taken at a community college during the summer. Please make sure they will transfer.
The program is designed to build upon each course, e.g. SPED 360

SPED 360 Overview

- SPED 474 Complex Needs
- SPED 469 Professional Collaboration
- SPED 464 SPED Law and IEP
- SPED 460 Interventions for Classroom Management

Professional Development
Required each quarter

Overview:

- If you want earn a credit, SPED 441 is an option. You must meet with your advisor to sign-up.
- If you sign-up for SPED 441 first quarter, requirements are established: two reflections on professional developments of your choice.
- Subsequent quarters, you must meet with your advisor.

Examples

- Darkness to Light Workshop through Brigid Collins
- Guest speakers
- Workshops offered outside the department
- The department offers opportunities and provide you with information on listserv. We provide TIMELY info when we can, but sometimes we do not have the info in advance
- Opportunities will also be posted on the bulletin board in our department
What is SPED 441?

- Course for special projects, research, other opportunities
- Course that has a particular professional focus – guest speakers from the community (Some professional opportunities are required)
- Course that is available if one is needed for additional credits for financial aid AND/OR Professional Development opportunities
- Repeatable for up to 10 credits (1 to 5)

Registering for this class your first quarter is HIGHLY RECOMMENDED. You will need to talk with your advisor each subsequent quarter.
New admits must request a course override from Ms. Gramm. She will give you a form to fill out and return to her.

Each subsequent quarter to enroll in SPED 441 you must arrange it ahead of time with your advisor.

Register for 1 – credit, unless specifically told otherwise.

Special Education Program – Learning Activities Agreement.

You will be notified of options of departmental approved professional development activities via the SPED listserv. If you would like to do something different, you will need your advisor’s approval.
Field Work

- Field work includes practicum, internships, service learning
  - Most majors have some kind of field experience each quarter. You will need to plan your life activities around field work. The more experience you have the better teacher or service provider you will be.
  - Number of hours for field work per credit is determined by the university – 3 credit course is approximately 90 hours of instruction, preparation, writing papers, and student teaching.
  - The time for field work does not include driving time.
Field Work

- SPED 310 – Middle School (Quarter 1) Service Learning
- SPED 440 – General Education, Inclusion (Quarter 2)
- SPED 474/476 – Continuum of Placement (Quarter 4)
- SPED 480 – Reading Practicum (Quarter 5)
- SPED 452 – ABA Project (Quarter 6)
- SPED 469 – Complex Needs II, SCED 490 – Science (Quarter 7)
- SPED 489 – Final Block (Quarter 8)
Internships

- SPED 498, 494, and 495 – Internships (1 – 15 credits, depending upon program)

- Degree is earned when all relevant internships have been completed.

- Special Education internships in Whatcom and Skagit counties.

- Elementary internships (SPED 494) may be completed in other areas and even overseas via a petition basis.
Field Experience Logs

- Logs are required and attached to specific courses. They verify time in placements and types of activities engaged in during field work.
- App can be uploaded to your phone.
- Through the Office of Field Experience—they will discuss requirements.
- See video for support.
Field Based Clearance Mandatory

- All programs are field based and provide multiple opportunities for learning as you apply skills and knowledge in context.
- Many courses that do NOT have SPED prefixes also REQUIRE field experiences.
- It is absolutely imperative that you stay current on clearances. You will not be allowed to participate in the field experiences unless you are up-to-date.
- You will NOT be allowed to register without clearances valid  THROUGHOUT the quarter.
Professional Training Program

- Different expectations from other types of university programs and courses

- Content and practical experiences are governed by state and national accreditation bodies

- Certain standards have to be met, and these standards are assessed through multiple measures

- Your professional organization is Council for Exceptional Children (CEC)
Professional Dispositions

- Social Media

- E-Mail
  - Emails and other correspondence with WWU faculty and staff, as well as service learning site or practicum coordinators. Emails should include the appropriate salutation (e.g., Professor, Dr.) and the name of the individual to whom you are writing.
  - Do not begin emails with “Hey.”
Professional Dispositions

- Phone Use
  - Phone use in class and in the field. Do not pull your phone out in the WWU classroom or in the field classroom unless it is an emergency. Doing so tells your peers and your supervisors or faculty/staff that the current context is not important to you.
Positivity

Disposition in the classroom and in the field (e.g., service learning or practicum). Your disposition should be positive.
Professional Disposition

- Assignment Submission
  - Assignments with multiple errors are unprofessional, as are work documents that you submit for your education or related services field (e.g., IEP).
  - It is expected that all work is proofread prior to submission and that you save the file with your last name and assignment title, e.g. CoulterReflection1
  - Submit assignments in a timely manner. Plan ahead.
Professional Disposition

- Computer Use in class
  - The standard across the program is that computers and the internet are not to be accessed during class time UNLESS directed by the faculty. Check with individual faculty as to whether you may have computers available in class.
Act Like a Professional

- Stay organized
- Be proactive and prepared
- Plan ahead—good use of time management
- Show up for class/practicum on time (No more than 20% absent)
- Find out the instructors policy for use of electronics in classes
- Dress and act like a teacher
- Approach all others with respect and positivity
- Clean-up your virtual life (Facebook, You Tube, Voice Mail)
Set Priorities:
You’re now in a teacher preparation program

- Focus on content
- Remain open-minded—expectations are established for a reason
- Establish routines that will support your success
- Gain experience and learn from mistakes—now is the time to get feedback
- Conduct yourself as if you are a teacher—interpersonal skills, communication skills, collaboration are all part of being successful as a teacher
- We believe behaviors observed on campus and in field experiences are a reflection of your conduct as a teacher. Our job is to prepare you for success; therefore, we will address behaviors that may interfere.
- Display independence and self-determination—seek support when needed, yet do your research first: read materials provided by instructors and department
When to see your advisor

- See your advisor every quarter!
- See your advisor to discuss future plans and possibilities
- See your advisor if you are having difficulty in a course and need help
- See your advisor if you have a life event that is hindering your progress through the program
- Follow your plan of study! But if you can’t, see your advisor
When to see the Chair

- Please see the chair
  - When you cannot reach your advisor
  - If and when you have difficulty in a class AFTER you have spoken with course instructor
  - If you need a sympathetic ear and to problem solve
  - If you want to share good news and victories
State Assessments for Licensure

- WEST-B (or ACT/SAT, Required for entry to Certification Programs)
- WEST- E and NES (Special Education; Endorsement Content Tests - ELED 2 tests, Secondary 1 test in Content Area for certification) (To be taken before internships)
- EdTPA (All Certification Candidates – End of Program in your 1st internship)
Program Assessments

- Incorporated into your coursework
- Required for Council for Exceptional Children National Program Recognition (CEC)
- Assessments must be passed in order to continue – 6 assessments (e.g., Decodable Book, Field Experience Essay, IEP).
